About Empowering Brands

Charli K Matthews

Founder & President

“Empowering Brands was the first to use “NEW MEDIA” in the pump industry. I created the model using social media on every page of EmpoweringPumps.com to educate the pump industry before our industry was even using social media. Today we are still recognized as the leader in digital media for the global process industries”

Founded in August 2011, Empowering Brands operates as a digital media company, located in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. As strategic business partners to their clients, Empowering Brands creates tailored programs to support client’ marketing campaigns, providing flexible and responsive service. With broad industry knowledge and a respected brand, Empowering Brands provides best-in-class digital media, content development, and social media strategy that empower their clients to cost-effectively reach and engage with a diverse industrial audience across multiple market industry platforms.
